~ A Mother's Love ~

When asked to write an article for our newsletter I was hesitant for I had just lost my mother in August of 2017. I decided to reconsider since I would be able to compare the goodness of my mother, as well as most mothers, to the goodness of our Heavenly Father.

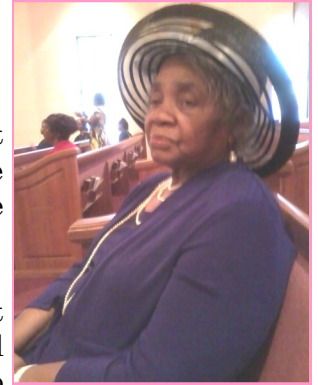

The love of God is compatible to the love a mother shows us daily. At conception, a mother is concerned with her health as well as her baby. She will make sure she goes to her doctor's appointment even though she might have to care for her other children while working a job. During slavery, a mother had a baby then went back to the cotton field. She might be faced with this, with or without the father being present to assist her. After birth, mothers still have to care for her newborn child as well as her other kids. A mother's love is nurturing. It causes a baby to grow and develop in a way it could not on its own. This love is exhibited in nearly everything a mother does to help her little child—feeding him, rocking him, changing him, talking to him, smiling at him. It is so refreshing to know that a mother like our heavenly Father God never takes a day off.

A mother, as well as our Heavenly Father remains protective through our entire life. With her newborn child a mother is always on alert, waking up at the slightest sound, caring during times of sickness, guarding against potential harm. From the time we take our first breath, God, as well as mothers is always present as the children grow into childhood and, later, adolescence. A mother, as well as our Heavenly Father remains alert and continues to be protective (of course a mother will give us advice as adults whether we want it or not). How blessed we are for as stated in Psalm 18:2 The LORD is my rock, my fortress, and my deliverer, my God, my rock where I seek refuge, my shield and the horn of my salvation, my stronghold. We, as his children, know that we can take him at his word and rely upon him. A mother's love like our Father's love endures through sleepless nights and exhausting days.

A mother's love is like that shown in Luke 18:1 for he was telling them a parable to show that at all times they ought to pray and not to lose heart. A mother's love like our Father's love is sacrificial for from the time of conception until the twilight of her own life, a mother never stops being a mother. As children we grew up in a household that struggled financially because our father was ill. Because of this we did not have enough "stuff" as our classmates. Our parents sacrificed their own happiness to make sure we had this "stuff" that our classmates had. God's love for us, his children, is also sacrificial. He does not want us to suffer the penalty of our sin. For that reason, he took on a human body and came to earth as Jesus. When he did that, he "traded places" with us. He lived the sinless life that we should have lived, and died the death that we deserve to die.

Although she, as well as my father, is with our Heavenly Father, I feel blessed. When writing this article, although I felt the need to cry, I found comfort in knowing that she instilled in me that there is no greater love than the love of God, the unfailing, constant love of God, as well as the love of her, my mother who loved God with all her heart and wasn't afraid to unconditionally love us, her children.

APRIL SHOWERS BRING MAY FLOWERS

Sister Wanda Verrett

It's May! What types of flowers do we expect to be popping up? Well, during May we celebrate Mother's Day and numerous graduations.

Every second Sunday in May, we celebrate Mother's Day. Most mothers are precious and should be celebrated. I am reminded of a few things Pastor Henry Nixon mentioned during his sermon at our Martin Luther King, Jr observance. He talked about the "babies having babies" situation in our communities. This has been going on for decades and is getting worse.

When I was growing up, very few women had babies out of wedlock. Those that got pregnant got married and most stayed married. I know some people become single parents through no fault of their own, etc., death of spouse or divorce. I am not trying to bash single parents, but sound a warning. Whether its babies having babies or "grown women" having babies, most of these children are born into poverty and will struggle to get ahead. Before you scream at me, I know a lot of great people have come from single parent homes. Romans 8:28 However, we should do a better job in teaching our young men to respect our young ladies, our young ladies to respect themselves, and make sure older men stay away from our daughters.

It's high school graduation time. Caps and gowns have been bought; college applications and financial aid applications have hopefully already been submitted. We are all in panic mode. Parents are wondering if they have passed on their values and students are wondering if they listened enough. It's a scary and exciting time. What are some steps to take the week after graduation?

1. Follow up on college acceptance letters. What will you need to gather over the summer, i.e. sheets, towels, toiletries? How much money will you need on day one? What books will they need and where is the cheapest place to buy them. When will they know if the financial aid was approved and for how much. NOTE: Try to minimize the student loans. It will not hurt your child to get a part-time job and help pay for school. Financial aid should not be used to live on, but only pay for school.
2. What scholarships are available? Go back to the school counselor's office. Go online and do a google search. Millions of scholarship dollars go unclaimed each year.
3. Get a summer job. Don't throw away the money assuming mom and dad have you covered.
4. Check your life insurance to see if your child is still covered.

It's also college graduation time. It's time to start your life. Set up your budget to cover all expenses, including your student loans. If you are going on to grad school, don't forget to ask for a deferment. Congratulations!
